Steel import strife grows

By BILL WINTER
of the Press-Record

Amid gloomy forecasts that half of the nation's currently laid-off steelworkers may never regain their steelmaking jobs, friction over massive steel imports is growing.

The U.S. International Trade Commission ruled Friday that government-subsidized imports from Belgium, France, Italy, Luxembourg, Britain and West Germany are threatening America's steel industry, which is in its worst slump since the Great Depression of the 1930s.

National Steel, owner of Granite City Steel, lost $90 million in the first half of 1982 and its third-quarter report is expected to show continuing unsatisfactory results. The pay of salaried employees has been cut 10 percent.

Led by a surge in shipments from Japan, steel imports rose 30 percent in August from the previous month to 1,450,000 tons, capturing 24.2 percent of the U.S. market.

Analysts attributed the 48 percent increase in Japanese steel imports to the weakness of the yen related to the dollar, lowering the price of Japan's products here, and also to fear among U.S. customers over possible trade barriers limiting European exports; the latter group may be turning to Japanese steel as a hedge.

The finding on Friday that the six European nations have injured the domestic steel industry could lead to higher duties for the imported steel, and worsen already-strained trading relationships.

Many steel people say the U.S. seems to get the worst of it in every instance.

Foreign nations subtly but effectively thwart American exports with a variety of fast-changing regulations.

When American talks of limiting imports, foreign countries and some in the U.S. voice dire predictions of reciprocal trade wars developing due to "unfairness" by America.

—And the U.S. never quite gets around to actually protecting domestic producers, such as auto firms and steelmakers, even when there is illegal "dumping" of products at less than the cost to make them.

Despite the International Trade Commission's ruling, the two sides are expected to continue their talks in an effort to reach a voluntary agreement to limit imports. The discussions have been in progress for months.

The commission decided 16 cases and were harmful. It ruled against a U.S. industry charge that West German hot-rolled carbon steel plate and cold-rolled sheet and strip were damaging the U.S. industry.

Earlier this year, the ITC had issued a preliminary decision that the imports might be injuring domestic firms. The voting was part of a long investigative process that was triggered by companies' complaints that European competitors were engaging in unfair trade practices.

The commission has until this Thursday to report officially to the U.S. Commerce Department.

B. Jay Cooper, a spokesman for Commerce Secretary Malcolm Baldrige, said, "It's legally possible to reach a settlement even after the vote. But the ruling does 'change the deck' in the negotiations." Parties to the talks are the Commerce Department and the European Economic Community.

The ITC decision could lead to financial duties of up to 25 percent on European steel within a period of weeks.

The seven American steel firms which raised the issue pointed out that

United Way campaign lagging

"We didn't meet our goal today of 50 percent," Roger Higgins, general campaign chairman of the Tri-Cities Area United Way, noted Friday as he totaled the pledges, to date, for the first half of this year's United Way campaign. But, he added, "Neighboring campaigns in Alton and other communities are about in the same boat. I don't think that's a bad report."

Higgins noted that pledges through Friday totaled $213,400, or 34.1 percent of this year's campaign goal of $625,000. He had hoped for 50 percent by the mid-campaign report meeting and is seeking 90 percent by the next meeting Oct. 29.

Darrell Slater, vice chairman of Group E (industry, construction and transportation pledges) noted that he expects a giant leap in his division by the next report meeting, which should greatly boost the campaign percentage, since his division is, by far, the largest. Only 28.5 percent of his division's goal of $459,300 had been raised by Friday, but he said some of the traditionally largest contributors have not yet processed their gifts.

The group with the highest percentage, Paul Raczewicz's Group B (Professions and non-profit organizations), reported 71 percent of its $52,000 goal has been reached.

Pledges in that category total $36,925. Reporting that 60.5 percent of its goal has been reached was Shirley Adams' Group A (Service clubs, organizations and individuals), which has collected $5,812 of a $9,600 goal.

Robert Glik reported that 49.4 percent of his group's goal has been reached. He heads Group D (business and commercial) and has collected $33,485 of a $67,800 goal.

Reporting that $6,405 of a goal of $36,300, or 17.6 percent, was Art Menendez, vice chairman of Group C (government employees).

Overall, the vice chairmen reported that $102,585 had been collected since the previous report meeting two weeks earlier for a campaign total of $213,400.

A special guest, Rev. Maurice Quilligan of Hunger, Inc., of the Catholic Diocese of Springfield, Ill., gave the campaign a check for $2,375 and said the money was raised by Catholics who gave up some food for Lent and donated the money saved to Hunger, Inc.

The money will be used for bulk purchases of food for the Good Pantries at Protestant Welfare Association and the Salvation Army. A special award given to Rev. Quilligan and Hunger, Inc.

Volunteer solicitors awards were presented for Ferd Pieper, Shirley Blasingame, Tillie Nornberg and Ronald Jachno. Corporate awards were presented to Illinois Power Co., the Granite City Press-Record, K-Mart Corp., Illinois Bell Telephone Co., Reilly Tar & Chemical Co., R. Dron Electrical Co., S.M. Wilson & Co., Grove Plumbing and Heating and Bricklayers' Local 65.

Employee awards were presented to the Press-Record and Illinois Power Co.

A special private donor award was presented to Henry D. Karandeff, chairman of the board of American Heritage Bank for his 43 years of giving to the local United Way. Karandeff said that the local campaign has had a history of succeeding in meeting its goals for many years "and is not going to fall this year."

Many suggestions for school cost cuts

By BILL WINTER
of the Press-Record

In response to his request that citizens and school employees submit cost-cutting suggestions, Granite City Supt. B. J. Davis is receiving many sound ideas, he told the Press-Record. There have been a number of valid proposals, the administrator commented. He is still accepting suggestions at:

B. J. Davis, Superintendent, Board of Education Office, 2011 Adams Street, Granite City, Ill. 62040.

In a message to school staff members last week, Davis said, "I am encouraged by the response to my letter of Sept. 27 in which I asked for your suggestions. Within hours of its delivery, I heard from several people. 'One person informed me of a report that was being made monthly, but was only needed quarterly. While that schedule once served a purpose, it was now obsolete.'"

"We immediately corrected the

Fredbird coming here for 'Y' open house

Fredbird, that friendly Cardinal fan who has become a national celebrity during baseball's 1982 World Series, is coming to the Quad-Cities once again, on Sunday, Oct. 24.

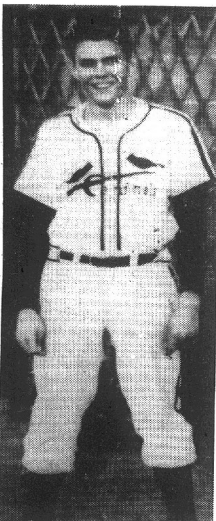

He not only likes the fleet-footed, slick-fielding Redbirds but also is a fan of the Tri-City Area YMCA and its many physical fitness and recreational programs.

Fredbird, also known as the Cardinals' mascot, will attend the annual "Y" open house along with the Ainsel Krazy Klowns, Wendy (of Wendy's restaurants) and Bob Bozard, a star of the St. Louis soccer Steamers.

The Tri-City Area YMCA, 2001 Edison Ave., has scheduled its open house for 1 p.m. to 5 p.m. Sunday. There will be many demonstrations of "Y" activities, including swimming classes, "healthy back" sessions, fitness classes and racquetball.

Special YMCA membership discounts will be offered on the day of the open house. Any new yearly adult membership can be purchased for less than the regular price, and racquetball and youth memberships may be obtained for $10 off the usual price. These special discounts will be

World Series fever brings some memories

By AL BARNES

For the Press-Record

Baseball is very much in the headlines these days, what with the Cardinals' brilliant sweep of the National League playoffs against the Atlanta Braves and their on going battle with the Brewers in the World Series.

So, before moving on to national and state championships in soccer, conference races in college and prep football and eventually state crowns for the high schools, I give you one more local baseball item.

A Granite City native, Edwin Reinagel, was the star southpaw pitcher on the Warrior 1947 baseball team which many fans hereabout think were much better than the 1948 team that won the Illinois high school championship.

Ed, as far as I can ascertain, was the first young man to ever sign a cash bonus for signing to play baseball with a major league team.

Since Reinagel didn't graduate from high school until January, 1948, organized baseball clubs weren't permitted to talk to prep players until they finished high school. Or, their classes graduated.

The Philadelphia Phillies signed young Reinagel and shipped him to their Salina, Kans., Class A farm club. He signed for what was now a microscopic sum, $4,000. But then was a hunk of cash.

Reinagel was one of four young men on that 1947 Granite City baseball club who signed with the major league clubs: Jack Scarborough, a shortstop and second baseman, inked a contract with the New York Giants' organization; Carl Linhart put his John Hancock on a Detroit Tigers contract; and Don Crabtree was grabbed up by the St. Louis Cardinals.

Reinagel remembers the 1947 team's starting lineup: behind the plate catching was Linhart; Gene Grace at first base; Bud McKinnon, at second base and captain; Jack Scarborough, shortstop; Francis Schwarzkopf, the hot corner; Carl Dalgeroff, left field; Jim Tadich, center field; and Crabtree, right field. Don was a cousin, I think of Estil Crabtree, who was an outstanding major league performer. In addition to Reinagel on the mound staff there were three other hurlers on the great 1947 squad: Harold Landwehrner, Bill West and Dick Schneider.

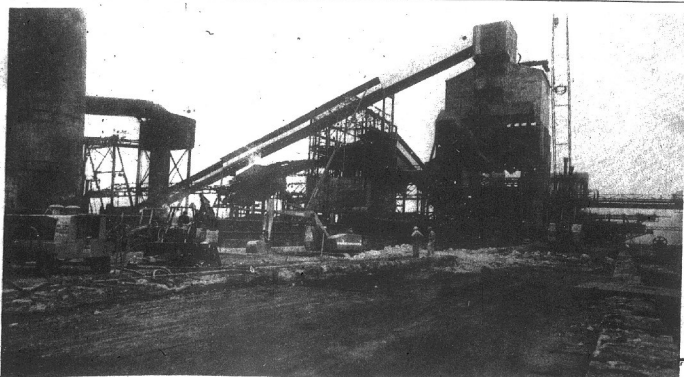

Three others who saw considerable action and, who along with Linhart, played key roles on the 1948 Granite City state champions were Art Borchers, Cliff Hoedebecke and Frank Kraus.

At this point, 35 years later, Reinagel, who is in the mortgage business locally, is understandably reluctant to blame anyone for the failure to notify the state activities association that Granite City High's baseball team wanted to be considered to play ... if they qualified ...

procedure, thus saving effort, time and money.

"Many other recommendations have been received and are being reviewed," he told the district's employees. "As you continue to look for money-saving practices, keep in mind that our philosophy is positive as we take the initiative to gain outside financial resources, such as the grant that paid for recent curriculum development workshops."

"Necessary trimming in some areas does not mean all areas are going to experience reductions. The source of funding often becomes the critical criterion."

"Remember, all changes are made with the purpose of preserving the quality education that together we are providing our students. Again, thank you for your cooperation. I plan to keep you informed of changes as they occur."

Supt. Davis told the Press-Record that the administrative staff's development of proposals to end second-year tax borrowing is proceeding, with a target date of January or earlier.

He is stressing that no decisions have been made, but that major cost reductions are inevitable due to the existing and growing imbalance in school income and costs.

Board members have indicated that cutbacks will be made to coincide with the end of the current school year, 1982-83.

They were unable to cut this year's budget because nearly all cost patterns already had been set, but specific budgeted expenditures will be avoided whenever it is feasible to do so.

Informally, board members say some of the present 18 attendance centers will be closed and the number of employees will be further reduced.

There are two high schools (9th through 12th grades), three junior high schools (7th and 8th grades) and 13 elementary schools (kindergarten and the 1st through 6th grades) currently in operation.

McKinley, Washington and Stallings elementary schools were closed in June 1979. Earlier, Central Junior High School and Liberty Elementary School were torn down, and several rural schools were eliminated.

The school system's Pre-School Center in the original Logan School has been leased to the Economic Opportunity Commission, which conducts Head Start classes for pre-school children.

in the 1947 state high school baseball tournament.

All he would say was: "We always wondered just how far we could have gone if we had been allowed to play."

All that spring of 1947, Coach Pick Dehner's East St. Louis baseball flyers were rated No. 1 in Illinois. So, in the final game of the Southwestern Illinois State Baseball Conference, on the last day of the campaign, the Warriors, behind the three-hit shutout pitching of Reinegal, white-washed East St. Louis, and its ace, lefty Ray Rosenkranz, 7-0.

Breaks in their baseball careers caused by World War II and Korea, played havoc with thousands of hopeful young players. Reinegal went into service for four years and when he returned to civilian life he ended up playing some at the Giants and finally the Cardinals.

Reinegal, like most youngsters who "shot at the post," doesn't regret or begrudge the time he spent trying to make it to the major leagues.

Says he: "I got my chances and made a break or two here and there and if I had been at the right place at the right time, I could have made it."

I've talked and researched Reinegal's life. At times he was greatly bothered by wideness; but, heck, that only makes most left-handed hurlers more effective ... and feared.

After and when talking to Reinegal, one very definitely gains the impression that he was happy to have had the opportunity to try to make it to the majors.

While digging in the Press-Record files on the Reinegal feature, here's some items I dug up:

Gene McGovern was scheduled to box six rounds at St. Louis Kilt Auditorium against Johnny Tabbs ... A 21-year-old right handed pitcher from Granite City, who was slated to travel south to Florida with the St. Louis Cardinals ... Lloyd McBride, now national president of the United Steel Workers, was assistant CIO director in the St. Louis area ... Linhart led the 1947 Warriors with a .461 average ... In a game against Alton High, Linhart went 3-for-4 and Jack Scarborough drove in three runs with a triple. Incidentally, baseball runs in families: Scarborough was the dad of young Jack who starred four years on the Southern Illinois U. at Edwardsville Cougars and the Southwestern Illinois Civics for the past five seasons ... Claude (Junior) Poole of the Moose Club defeated the Granite City Steel nine in fast-pitch softball, 5-3, and fanned 21. Nick Pettitello homered for the losers, while Johnny Palchiff posted three hits in four trips.

... In just the past year, the 700,000-member DAV field of business, industry and the public. If we support each other, we won't drown," he stated, noting that the United Way helps support those who need it.

Higgins concluded the program, noting that Charlie's Restaurant has agreed to sponsor an "Over the Top Breakfast" Nov. 2 and it is hoped that the campaign will have topped its goal by that date.

He said the YMCA uses a "buddy system" in the pools so youths do not drown. "We have a buddy system with

Under the leadership of Executive Director David L. Ferrante and the aquatic director, Patty Swearingin, a wide range of fall classes will start during the week of Monday, Nov. 1.

And even before the open house, a "sleepover" for boys and girls aged 6 to 12 is set for 7 p.m. this Friday, Oct. 22, to 8 a.m. Saturday, Oct. 23.

The fun night will include games, racquetball, swimming, a movie, snacks and music. The fee per child is $6, and registration is limited; the deadline is this Wednesday.

Sleepovers will continue in 1982-83 on the second week of Monday, Nov. 1.

Highlighting the YMCA schedule beginning in November will be such programs as swimming, fitness, judo, aerobic dancing, and senior citizen water exercise and fitness.

New this fall is a program under which youngsters 5 to 11 years old will spend after-school hours at the YMCA for "fun and fitness." Schools currently on the bus schedule for this activity are Niedringhaus, Frohardt, Parkview and Wilson. Participants may sign up for all five weekdays or as few as two days a week; they are picked up by their parents any time before 6 p.m.

country has been making further inroads each year, taking 17.6 percent of the U.S. steel market in the first eight months of 1982 and 22.6 percent in the first eight months of 1982.

Although not as serious as the American economic downturn, both Europe and Japan are in recessions. The top U. German official lost his position in recent weeks and the top Japanese government leader has announced he will not seek reelection.

David Roderick, chairman of U.S. Steel Corp., largest American steelmaker, says the disparity between the scheduled and actual Japan-Europe trade suggests an attempt by those two parties to divert excess steel to the relatively open U.S. market.

This, Roderick says, would constitute a violation of the General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade. He remarks, "If general trade agreements are grounded, then I guess our suit is grounded."

Learning that Roderick spoke last week also filing new litigation against European firms, a European steel executive said, "That would be most regrettable. I'm not sure the system can take much more."

DAV field unit in GC Wednesday

Local veterans and their families can take advantage of free veterans' benefits counseling and claim filing assistance when a field service unit of the nonprofit Disabled American Veterans (DAV) visits the Quad-City area Wednesday.

The DAV's office-equipped van — manned by a trained veterans' benefits expert — will be located at the DAV Hall, 147 Nineteenth St. These field service units are generally open from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m.

A word of a million veterans, their dependents and survivors have visited DAV vans during the past eight years, seeking advice and assistance concerning their benefit entitlements.

As a result of these visits, DAV national service officers have filed 118,500 claims for Veterans Administration (VA) disability compensation and pension alone.

In just the past year, the 700,000-member DAV field of reopened approximately 10,000 claims for service-connected disability compensation on behalf of claimants visiting the field service units. More than 1,500 claims for non-service-connected pension were also filed or reopened, and more than 3,500 veterans visiting the vans received DAV help in obtaining VA hospital care and other health services.

Also resulting from DAV field service unit visits last year were several thousand claims for VA educational programs, Social Security disability payments, VA loan guarantees and insurance programs, military benefits, employment services and other programs, covering the entire range of veterans' benefits and services.

"People are going to have questions," explained DAV National Service Director Arthur H. Wilson. "The DAV wants to make sure veterans and their families get straight answers from experts who are on their side."

Those who are independent of any government agency, this is particularly important at a time when the government is trying to cut back spending."

The DAV reminds any veteran or family member who visits the van to bring the veteran's VA claim number, if available, and Social Security number. These are needed for the purpose of filing claims.

Upon his arrival at Bi-State Parks Airport, East St. Louis, at 9 a.m. Tuesday, Stevenson will be greeted by Madison Police Chief Donald Bridick, who will serve as his chauffeur for the day.

Stevenson will leave for a quick trip to Chester, Ill., Tuesday afternoon from Civic Memorial Airport at

Limit campaign Forum letters

The interest of Quad-City area residents in the Nov. 2 general election should make this page an interesting one during the next two weeks and we will do everything in our power to make it so.

The realities of the times make it necessary for the Press-Record to implement a new policy on letters to the Forum related to the election.

In previous general elections, it was not unusual to have up to two full newspaper pages of Forum letters which could, in some cases, be termed publicity, or free advertising for the candidate. Few businesses today can afford to give away their product to this degree.

On the other hand, elections are important news with a big impact on this community, region, state and nation. Each candidate is encouraged to outline the issues as he or she sees them, along with providing biographical information and a picture; this information is published without charge, along with other election-related (and non-election) news. And readers' views also are welcomed.

Letters to the Forum written in support of any one candidate will be put into that candidate's file. Near the end of this month, each candidate will be invited to review letters in his or her support and to select the one the candidate feels best represents the supporters.

Letters supporting candidates will be accepted for possible publication until 4:30 p.m. Tuesday, Oct. 26. After that date, one letter per candidate will be selected and used (if there is at least one). Candidates may contact the Press-Record if they wish to select the best letter; the identity of writers wishing to omit their names and addresses will continue to be known only to the editor.

Letters containing legitimate news value will be converted into news stories.

Persons who wish to be sure that their comments in support of candidates are run should contact the advertising department. Press-Record advertising representatives will be glad to discuss format, size and price for any letter run as an advertisement. As always, all ads will be clearly designated as ads.

While it is never easy to change anything the public has come to accept in the newspaper, we ask for readers' understanding and support. It is no longer feasible to dedicate the manhours and news space to two pages an issue of letters saying, basically, "Re-elect Candidate X because he has been a good father, a good person and a good public servant."

Elvis, Peter Rabbit candidates

What do the late Elvis Presley, Peter Rabbit, magician Harry Houdini, Daniel Boone and Jesse James have in common? They all are top candidates for new postage stamp designs, according to the U.S. Postal Service.

Few of us think when we walk into the post office and ask for a booklet of stamps of the many hours of thinking, art work and craftsmanship which went into the selection, design and production of a new postage stamp.

Each year, the Postal Service's 18-member Citizens Stamp Advisory Committee pour over thousands of stamp ideas, ranging from honoring aspirin's role in alleviating pain to recognizing the importance of the U.S. Supreme Court.

The advisory committee, which is comprised of artists, historians, businessmen, stamp collectors and others, pours over these ideas when the committee meets six times a year. Difficult decisions must be made at that time which will affect how postage stamps will look two years hence.

Themes endorsed by the committee are submitted to the postmaster general for approval. Then an artist is selected to design the stamp and submit his drawings for final approval.

The Treasury Department's Bureau of Engraving and Printing then takes over, preparing the plates to print the stamps.

The new St. Francis of Assisi and Ponce de Leon stamps are examples of excellent craftsmanship and artistry, as were the state birds and flowers stamps. The booklet of American Bighorned Sheep (one color) and the sheet and coil stamps of the flag and monument, leave much to be desired, some collectors feel.

Stamps of space achievements, desert plants and wildlife habitats were the most popular among collectors in 1981. They were bright, colorful and artistic. We hope the advisory committee of two years ago selected more ideas like these.

But, putting it all in perspective, what difference does it really make. Just so the figure on the stamp remains at 20-cents, we'll take anything.

Elect the men who set rates?

A major issue likely to be decided after the November election is whether the Illinois Commerce Commission should be convened from an appointed body to an elected body.

There has been much debate on the elected vs. appointed Commerce Commission. A new study by Walter Primeaux Jr., a professor of business administration at the University of Illinois, and Patrick Mann, a professor of economics at West Virginia University, found rates approved by appointed commissions as much as 11 percent higher than rates approved by elected commissions.

On the other side of the coin, Michael Hasten, chairman of the ICC, says that argument has no validity. He says that 13 states have elected commissions and there is very little difference, if any, in the rates. He even contends that studies show electric rates tend to be slightly higher in states with elected commissions.

It all depends on which study you believe. Professors Primeaux and Mann studied 94 utility companies in 30 states with appointed commissions and 17 with elected commissions. A formula was used to remove differences in the actual costs to produce the electricity and distribute it, leaving the commissions' decisions as, supposedly, the only factor.

In 1969, there was little difference between the findings of elected and appointed commissions, but by 1979, when utilities were frequently seeking substantial rate increases, consumers were objecting vigorously. Then, commissions which answered to the people for their jobs set residential rates 10 percent lower than appointed commissions in 1979, and nine percent higher in 1979, according to the study.

While politics seems to be a nasty word in many circles, it does make the politicians listen to the people who elect them.

We feel the voters should make up their own minds whether the Illinois Commerce Commission should have elected or appointed members and then ask the statewide candidates in the November election how they feel about it.

Quad-City area residents were hesitant to give their comments concerning the ability of American automobile producers to recover in view of the inroads foreign manufacturers have made in the car market. The issue is a sensitive one in this steel-manufacturing city, which has witnessed the closing of its car frame company.

"Can American cars compete successfully?" — Those who chose to tackle the problem gave the following reactions:

Stanley McElroy, Granite City

"Not until they come down in their prices. And then overtake them (foreign manufacturers) little by little. I wouldn't have one (foreign car) on a bet."

Earl Thompson, Granite City

"Yes, as soon as foreign governments quit subsidizing foreign auto makers, otherwise it will be impossible to compete. I think our present administration should equalize the difference...in setting up tariffs...to control the subsidization."

Georgia Borger, Granite City

"I think if they stopped some of the foreign imports, like Japan, we could put more people back to work. Imports are fine, but how about some of our people doing (parts of the) operations?"

Sharon Henderson, Venice

"No...the price is a consideration. My husband drives a foreign car...I drive an American car."

Seniors should be paid for their work too

To the Editor:

I've often heard people tell senior citizens to donate their time. Why? Aren't senior citizens worth paying? This makes me sick.

Don't places think senior citizens need a little extra money to pay the lights, etc? There is plenty of things senior citizens can work at. But why free?

The city invents jobs for needy kids, why not the seniors? Our seniors aren't over the hill yet and can put in a few hours a day for extra money.

Christmas is coming. Let's help our seniors get that little extra they need so badly.

Renews sponsorship of Veterans' Day Flag-Waving Contest

To the Editor:

Ron Zuckerman, general manager of Fredman Brother Furniture announced he will again this year, sponsor the "All American Flag-Waving Contest" to be held at Wilson Park at 9:30 a.m.

A $100 savings bond will be awarded to any Quad-Cityan who registers at the store with name and address, no purchase necessary, and whose name is drawn that day, and that person is flying the American flag from his home. Not only is the contest interesting and rewarding, but it instills more flag waving and patriotism in the area.

This is the third year I am conducting the contest alongside the P46F jet fighter memorial aircraft at Wilson Park. A recent photo of the event was pictured in the National Avenet newspaper for nationwide coverage of the patriotic event.

Veteran's Day there will be a short ceremony alongside the aircraft with the Army, Navy, Marine and Air Force recruiters present to commemorate the occasion.

Feels fire coverage in Long Lake, Mitchell inadequate

To the Editor:

It seems a shame that the people of the surrounding areas of Granite City don't know what is going on in their own communities because the local paper that the majority of them subscribe to doesn't seem to care what goes on outside the city limits.

The Mitchell and Long Lake Fire Departments have both recently had open house and visited schools to talk on fire prevention. They have also had numerous rescue and fire calls. But does our local paper cover these stories? No way.

Our firemen are not glory hounds, but I feel a little recognition is little enough payment for the job these volunteers do. Even if it is in the so-called outcast area.

JERI COOPER
931 St. Thomas Rd.

(Editor's Note: Guilty as charged. We did not have reporters and photographers available for the Long Lake or Mitchell fire department open houses this year. In previous years, we have given live coverage to these important events. In years we were unable to cover them live, we have carried photos and stories submitted by the firemen. Unfortunately, this year, neither was covered. Our apologies. (As for coverage of fires, a spokesman for the fire department has, in the past, called us when there have been a fire. If there have been fires we have not covered, it is because we were not called. We are interested in the news in these important areas, as we have demonstrated in the past and, hopefully, will in the future.)

If you're against the Government withholding interest on your savings, read on . . . and then act now!

Do you want 10% of the interest you earn on savings withheld for taxes? On August 19, 1982, Congress passed the Tax Equity and Fiscal Responsibility Act of 1982. One of the many provisions of that act requires the 10% withholding on interest and dividends effective July 1, 1983.

It means you won't have the full and immediate use of the interest you earn. Therefore, if you depend on interest and dividend income, you'll find it harder to make ends meet.

If the eighty million savers in this country take the time to fill out the coupon below, Washington will know that the taxpayers want the act amended to exclude the withholding provision.

Tentative plan to expand treatment at Lansdowne

By DONNA KIMBRO

A partial agreement has been reached between the Illinois Environmental Protection Agency, the Metro-East Sanitary District and the cities of Madison and Venice to continue use of the MESD's Lansdowne sewage treatment plant, which currently performs primary treatment of sanitary sewage before it is discharged into the Mississippi River.

Tentative plans were announced at Tuesday night's Madison City Council meeting to upgrade the Lansdowne plant and develop secondary treatment capabilities there to accommodate Madison, Venice and other communities in the Lansdowne facilities planning area.

The Lansdowne plant is located in St. Clair County near the East St. Louis riverfront.

Casper Nighohossian, Madison city attorney, said parties to the project contemplate that a revised facilities plan will be completed by about February 1983.

A public meeting was held in Madison Tuesday night on whether the Lansdowne plant should be expanded or whether the cities, villages and townships it serves should be connected to the Granite City regional treatment plant.

MESD, Madison and Venice have agreed to cooperate in development of the revised facilities plan and in implementation of its recommendations; they recognize their obligation under state and federal laws to treat or have their sewage treated, the attorney added.

Nighohossian said "time is of the essence" in order to help qualify for grant funds, with which to provide secondary treatment at Lansdowne.

If Madison does not reach some kind of secondary treatment agreement, it could be fined $10,000 a day by the state until an agreement is made, the attorney commented.

A $20,000 bid to purchase a 1.9-acre tract of land in the city's Stephens, Maeas Industrial Park, was received from Wayne Lanter of Lanter Refrigerated Distributing Co., 1213 Caine Drive, Lanter also submitted a bid of $10,000 for another parcel just north of his plant's present location.

Lanter proposes to build a warehouse on the site to extend his operation, which has been located in the industrial park since 1969. The company presently has 25,000 square feet of refrigerated space for its food-related commodity business.

The new construction is expected to cost $1½ million and it would provide employment for additional local residents. The initial request from Lanter was submitted at an August council meeting.

Council members agreed that all informational papers will be referred to the city comptroller, Mayor Mike Sasysk and Attorney Nighohossian until the real estate is surveyed and a final decision is made.

Approval was granted to the Madison County Transit District to install bus passenger shelters at Madison locations, with the stipulation that the city will maintain the structures throughout the year.

Council members agreed on two locations: the corner of Schermer's Market, 12th Street and Madison Avenue, and the vicinity of the Reese Drug Store at Third Street and Madison Avenue.

It also was noted that bus shelters which have been removed due to road improvement work on McCambridge Avenue will be replaced after the highway project is completed.

A letter from the Illinois Commerce Commission notified the council of an electric and gas utility hearing to be held in Chicago at 10 a.m. Oct. 28.

Council approval was given to pay bills totaling $42,715.

Aldermen approved paying Macclair Asphalt Co. $272 and Asphalt Concrete Corp. $763 for work done on the David Connole Alpine Village Shopping Center, Third and Madison, with the funds to be derived from industrial revenue bonds issued for the construction.

The aldermen granted permission to the Knights of Columbus to hold a road-block at the corner of Sixth Street and Madison Avenue on Friday and Saturday, Oct. 29 and 30, to solicit funds to aid the mentally retarded. The K of C members traditionally sell Tootsie Roll candy for the project.

A letter was received from Mobil Oil Co. in conjunction with the closing of its station on McCambridge Avenue due to widening of that street. The oil company agreed to sell to the city two automotive lifts for a total of $200 and three underground fuel storage tanks at $1 each.

The council was notified by Nighohossian that a hearing on litigation between former policeman Richard Kriesel and the Madison Police Pension Board will begin at 1 p.m. Nov. 4 in East Alton.

The case has been appealed. No further witnesses are to be called, and it will be decided on the basis of information presented at a pension board hearing, the attorney said.

Attorney Michael Bilbrey addressed the council and gave a review of 20 parcels of real estate in either condemnation proceedings or the process of renovation. The city has been pressing for the removal or improvement of dilapidated buildings.

Amvets Post 204 petitioned the council for permission to present a request to the Zoning Board. It seeks a permit to build a structure of 110x70 feet on undeveloped land on the north side of Kennedy Drive. The building would provide the post with a meeting place and a hall for social functions.

Comptroller Hudzik spoke to the council on the success of its request for Madison County Community Development funds. Madison will receive $46,491 for recreation purposes or improvement of recreation facilities; $27,490 to raise condemned buildings area in the business district; $15,000 for economic development, and $32,000 for housing development.

The money will be received as soon as papers are signed by city officials and approved at the next County Board meeting, Hudzik added.

Mayor Mike Sasysk appointed Mrs. Angela Vavra as a police commissioner, replacing her late husband, William Vavra. The appointment received the approval of the council.

At the conclusion of the meeting, Hudzik read his letter of resignation. He said, in part, "During the past nine years, I have totally enjoyed working on behalf of the residents of our town."

"I thank the mayor and council members from 1973

"As I leave my job with the city, I assure you I intend to fully support the future programs and policies of this administration. I wish my successor the best of luck and I leave knowing that I gave the mayor, city officials and residents of Madison the best I had to offer."

Hudzik has accepted a post with First Granite City National Bank and will leave the comptroller position as soon as a suitable replacement is hired and trained, he said.

Nameoki officials bound for convention

Nearly all members of the Nameoki Township Board have approved a request that all members attend an upcoming convention for township officials. The annual Township Officials Conference will be in Springfield, Ill., and will present information and materials to aid officials in governing procedures.

Helen Hawkins was the only board member who opposed the approval for all officials to attend. According to Mrs. Hawkins, the board does not have the funds to send all members to the event. "I think that the only persons who should attend are the highway commissioner, the supervisor, and the clerk," Mrs. Hawkins stated. "They can bring the information back to the rest of us."

Mrs. Hawkins also indicated that petitions signed by registered voters in the township in 1979 proved that most voters object to all members of the board attending the annual conference. "We had approximately 300 signatures from people who told us what they felt," Mrs. Hawkins said. "That should have been enough for the board not to approve everyone going."

Steeler gridders slip past Edwardsville 16-15

By ROGER KRAMER
of the Press-Record

EDWARDSVILLE — What was the key play in Granite City North's 16-15 victory over Edwardsville in a Gateway East Conference game here Friday?

(A) John Obenhaus' second period fumble recovery which set up John Kindel's touchdown.

(B) Al Prengal's interception which set up Daren DePew's 27-yard field goal later that quarter.

(C) Sean Wyrostek's 14-yard touchdown pass on a fake field goal attempt in the third quarter.

(D) Prengal's fourth quarter interception which stalled an Edwardsville offensive drive.

(E) Barry Watson's reception of an on-side kick with 44 seconds left in the game after Edwardsville cut North's lead to one.

(F) Every play of the game.

If you were a student of Steeler coach Tom Wyrostek, (F) was the correct answer.

"In a game like this, there was no one single play or one person you can credit the game to. All of those plays were important, but so were the third-and-six plays when we were deep in the field," Wyrostek said.

"Of course, Al Prengal had his usual excellent game and Daren DePew had an excellent game, but it was people like Bob McClew, Paul Bailey and Bill Zimmer who had outstanding games too, and that's why we won," he added.

Last year, North's games with Edwardsville were important ones in the Stealers' battle for the GEC title, and this year's games aren't any different.

North's victory put it in a tie with the Tigers for second place in the GEC with 2-1 records. Although still undefeated in the conference (3-0), both North and Edwardsville play Althoff one more time before the end of the season.

In addition, North will host Edwardsville Nov. 5 in the season finale. Cahokia plays North at the Granite City South field Friday.

"Every game's going to be tough for us from here on out. Cahokia's got a super defense and three fast runners,

Tom Wyrostek
Steeler football coach

and we're going to have to stop them too," Wyrostek said.

At first, it appeared only Edwardsville would have the key plays of the game. Dave Vieth recovered a North fumble in the first quarter to set up Edwardsville's first scoring drive.

A 36-yard pass from quarterback Wendell Brown to Kurt Atkins put Edwardsville on the North 12-yard line. Five plays later, Atkins leaped over the line for a one-yard touchdown run with 45 seconds left in the quarter.

On North's next possession, DePew missed a 53-yard field goal attempt, but North got the ball back on the next play on Obenhaus' fumble recovery.

On the seventh play of the drive, John Kindel ran a yard up the middle for North's first touchdown.

However, DePew missed the PAT.

North wasn't to be frustrated long. Prengal picked up his first interception at the Tiger 37 and moved it to the 26. North couldn't get any closer to the goal line than the 10, so DePew kicked a 27-yard field goal to give North a 9-7 halftime lead.

North seemed to have the game well at hand in the second half. On North's first possession of the half, North ran the ball 70 yards on 13 plays to eat up most of the time in the third quarter.

That drive led to North's final touchdown. North had third-and-three at the Tiger 14, but North didn't gain any ground on the play. The Stealers brought in the key for an apparent field goal try, but Prengal, DePew's holder, pitched to Sean Wyrostek.

Wyrostek scrambled to find a receiver. Just before he was tackled, he passed towards Bob Quick, who had to move up a few feet to make the reception. DePew's all-important PAT was good with 2:47 left in the period.

"I was either supposed to pass or run if I couldn't find a receiver. I threw the ball back for Quick as I was going down, and I thought for sure the pass was going to get intercepted. Bob made a super play on that," the younger Wyrostek said.

Edwardsville coach Dick Ford expected the fake field goal, but the coverage just wasn't there.

"We were looking for a fake field goal because they couldn't have won with just three points. We had a defensive back on Quick, but he fell asleep at the end made the play," Ford said.

The game wasn't quite over yet. North committed a facemask and a power interference penalty to put Edwardsville in good field position. However, a holding penalty against the Tigers and a personal foul penalty after Prengal's second interception put North on the Tigers' 46-yard line.

North moved the ball to the five in the next three plays, but North couldn't move the ball that final yard to keep the drive going. The Tigers were still alive.

Brown passed to Jeff Krebs to move the ball to the Tiger 37. With fourth down and four, Todd Spiller ran 42 yards to North's 15-yard line. Three plays later, Brown found Jody Rodgers for a six yard touchdown pass. Brown ran the conversion to cut the lead to one.

However, Brown tried a on-side kick which Watson recovered at the North 46. Edwardsville couldn't force a North fumble on the next three plays, and North went home victorious.

"North just came to play football and the Tigers didn't," Ford said. "We didn't play defense, and we let Granite

City North intercepted two passes in the Stealers' 16-15 win over Edwardsville Friday to help preserve the win. After this second quarter interception, Daren DePew kicked a 27-yard field goal. Eric Brown, the intended receiver, dove after Prengal.

North run too far too many plays. When we did get things going, we would fumble the ball, and all the sudden, we don't get it back."

On the other hand, coach Wyrostek couldn't have been happier.

"We're proud of every one of our players. Everyone made a big effort to win. We really wanted this one because it was so important to us," Wyrostek said.

North is 3-3 overall and 2-1 in the GEC. Edwardsville is 2-4 and 2-1.

INTERCEPTION. Al Prengal of Granite City North intercepted two passes in the Stealers' 16-15 win over Edwardsville Friday to help preserve the win. After this second quarter interception, Daren DePew kicked a 27-yard field goal. Eric Brown, the intended receiver, dove after Prengal.

Warriors defeat Jr. Billikens 1-0, now 19-2

By NANCY WEIL
of the Press-Record

For Gene Baker, Granite South soccer coach, the game against St. Louis University High School Saturday night at the Gauntlet was important; playing a traditional power always means more. The 1-0 Warrior win says a great deal about this season's team, especially considering that South has played far better games.

Certainly the Jr. Billikens also have had better outings, but despite sluggish play from both teams, it was an exciting game from start to finish.

With South ranked first in Illinois and the Bills ranked sixth in Missouri, it was a game of skill between two teams that potentially could each win its respective state tournaments.

Ebbie Dunn, SLU high school coach who is somewhat of a legend in high school soccer, said he felt the Jr. Bills played well, but simply did not capitalize on scoring opportunities.

"Granite City plays as well as any team we've played this year," he said; a huge compliment from a coach whose team has played some of the best high school talent in the country.

"Granite City plays as well as any team we've played this year...The kids play good soccer and they hustle."

Ebbie Dunn
SLU High soccer coach

"The kids (South) play good soccer and they hustle," he added.

The Warriors had to hustle every second of the game to keep up with the Bills' speed and talent and South generally did an admirable job. Still, it was an extremely close game statistically with eight shots for South and nine for SLU high.

South goalkeeper Jeb Blasingame made four saves to Todd Schmidt's two. The difference in the game came down to which team scored.

It was not until the fourth quarter at 68:46 that South scored and took the game. Off a free kick, near the left corner, Fritz Brewer got the ball and sent it to Phil Harizal who scored with a shot into the right side of the net past Schmidt, who seemed stunned after it was over.

Schmidt sat for a long time leaning against the right goal post.

"Anytime we go out on the field we feel like we're going to win. Sometimes we don't score goals and we don't win," Dunn said.

The Jr. Bills very nearly scored first in the second quarter. With intense pressure on the Warrior defense, the Bill's line moved into the area. A shot went up into the air and came down almost at the line. Blasingame went up for the save, but dropped the ball as he came down, it bounced away and finally was saved, but not after several SLU high players raised their hands to indicate a goal.

Fortunately for South, neither of the referees reciprocated the motion and SLU went scoreless.

"They are a very good team," Baker said of SLU high. "He's (Dunn) very well respected. They are a traditional power in Missouri."

But the Warriors could not quite mask the fact that the Warriors had not played as well as they could have. Since the "Tournament of Champions," they have been off in two games one against Cahokia and Saturday's game.

"I don't know if we necessarily played as well as we can," Baker said and added that the Jr. Bills probably did not play up to their capabilities.

For now, however, Saturday's game and the game against Cahokia are not Baker's primary concerns; both those games are finished. Rather, he is most "concerned with the lapse between the end of the season and play-offs."

The last game for the Warriors is Friday at Belleville Althoff with regionals beginning Oct. 26 at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

South will host Hazelwood East today at 4 p.m.

Cougars defeat Quincy; secure homecoming

By AL BARNES
of the Press-Record

EDWARDSVILLE — The Quincy College 'Hawks' pennant, yes, anti-social habit of ruining the homecoming activities of the soccer team of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville failed to hold this past Saturday.

Coach Bob Guelker's SUE eleven, after being held scoreless the first half, broke in the second half and demolished the Quincy College defense and, in the process, broke the combined hearts of a large group of fans supporting the Hawks, winning 3-0. Most, if not all, of those Hawk fans, of course, were fathers and mothers of the Quincy players who, like the Hawks' keeper, Todd, on a product of St. Louis area high schools.

Using Greg Fleher, a hard-playing SUE defender, dramatically got the Cougars on the scoreboard at 60:37 as he took a pass from "Tim Loughman and beat the Hawks' keeper, Steve Todd. Less than ten minutes later, another defender, Tom Groves, everyone's candidate for All-American honors, was hit by midfielder Leo Bourneuf, the Cougars' brain trust, and the SUE lead was 2-0. The Cougars completed their scoring at 78:40 when lanky Mike Groves, the No. 1 SUE sub, put up a leading pass to junior college transfer, Ben Blake, who then beat the Hawks' keeper, Todd, on a one-on-one solo shot. It was Blake's first goal of the season.

The game started out as a typical Hawks vs. Cougars soccer battle, but with a vast difference from the historic past — SUE's offense was clearly better than the visitors. In the first 45 minutes, the Cougars outshot the Hawks by a 20-to-five margin. In fact, Quincy didn't penetrate close enough to register a shot-on-goal until seven minutes had clicked away on the clock.

An open goal try by the Hawks' winger, Rick Day. And, another "gasper" by the game player at 11 minutes into the game.

In that first half, the Gauvain cousins, Mike and Steve, racked up a pair of shots which only a couple of miracle "saves" by Todd kept the Cougars from leaving the field at the intermission with a 3-0 lead.

Steve's effort after 11 minutes into the game called for a truly magnificent "save" by Todd to prevent a goal. Then, with just 12:30 remaining on the clock in the first half, Mike Gauvain blasted shot goalward which nobody in attendance believed that Todd would be able to knock out.

Overall, the Cougars outshot the Hawks, 34-to-14, but in the second half, SUE's offense seemed to be under better control. The unrelenting pressure by the entire Cougar team finally resulted in the Quincy defense breaking down.

The Hawks now are 5-2, while the Cougars topped their record to 9-3-1.

This weekend the Cougars will be on the road: Saturday afternoon (2 p.m.) at the University of Wisconsin, Milwaukee, and the following day (Sunday), south to Chicago to take on the Chikas of the University of Illinois at Chicago in the contest slated to get underway at 1:30 p.m. The Chikas are no longer known as Chicago Circle. Then, Friday night, Oct. 29th, "The Game of the Year," the 12th annual Bronze Boot classic between the Cougars and the struggling Bills of Coach Harry Keough will be played at St. Louis Busch Memorial Stadium in a 7:30 p.m. confrontation. The Guelker charges will then close out their regular season on the road at the U.S. Air Force Academy in Colorado, Sat., Nov. 6th.

A sweep of the four remaining SUE games would assure the Cougars of their 14th straight appearance in the NCAA's post-season tournaments. In fact, a split no doubt would be good enough, very probably, of earning the Cougars a trip to the mid-west regionals.

Granite South Warriors

South defeats Cahokia; win Gateway East

By NANCY WEIL
of the Press-Record

The Granite South soccer team has set its priorities straight throughout the season and has accomplished each goal before going on to the next. The Gateway East Conference championship win was the first going into Thursday's game against Cahokia and the Warriors readily accomplished the task, shutting out the Comanches 2-0 at the Gauntlet.

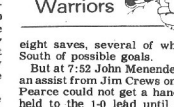

It was the second time this season the Warriors have shut out Comanches; the first was a 4-0 win at Cahokia.

The two-goal difference in the games was due partly to Cahokia's much improved team and partly to the Warrior's play. While the Warriors played well, they took the game a bit slower and easier than usual.

Comanche goalkeeper Rick Pearce played exceptionally well and has shown great improvement through the season. "He's very good. He's all-state candidate material," Gene Baker, South coach said of Pearce.

The Warriors tested Pearce with 18 shots on goal and he came back with eight saves, several of which robbed South of possible goals.

Granite South Warriors

But at 7:52 John Menendez scored on an assist from Jim Crews on a shot that Pearce could not get a hand on. South held to the 1-0 lead until the second quarter when Bill Hency made it 2-0 on an assist from Fritz Brewer at 34:26.

Pearce was surprised by the shot and appeared not to have seen the ball. Hency shot hard and the ball was in the back of the net before Pearce reacted — with a startled look on his face, he watched the ball bounce away from the net.

South so dominated the game that Cahokia was not allowed a shot and goalkeepers Jeb Blasingame and John Veizer had little to do in the net. Still, Baker commended Cahokia for keeping South scoreless through the third and fourth quarters.

"They're a vastly improved team," he said. Baker also mentioned Cahokia forward Cino Coleman. "He's improved. He's always a threat."

While Baker was "pleased with the shutout," he was happiest with clinching the conference and being able to utilize some younger players.

But for the Warriors, the conference championship seemed anticlimactic. There was little of the usual celebratory atmosphere after the game.

The team obviously was happy with the win, but the lack of the usual fanfare was probably due to one overriding factor: the conference championship is just the first step toward a possible three weeks of post-season play.

Althoff downs Warriors

By STEVEN WAYNE ROTSCH

GRANITE CITY — The Belleville Althoff Crusaders rolled up 35 unanswered first-half points on their way to a 35-8 victory over the Granite City South Warrior football team Friday.

"They were a lot better than I thought," South coach Jerry McKeehan said. "If they had left their first team in there it could've been 100-0. I'm very disappointed."

"But we're not giving up. We can win our last three. But tonight we beat ourselves. We look great on one play and then we seem to let up and they get a big play."

"We have to get up first. The first (score) demoralized us," McKeehan said.

Althoff coach Glenn Schott had the same game plan. "Our offense had to control the ball," Althoff's first score came after a controlled drive and Ed Keturakis scored the first of his two goals.

"Then we made a heckuva goal-line stand," Schott said.

The goal-line stand stopped a controlled Warrior drive that ate up almost half of the first quarter. But the Warriors lost the ball on fourth and goal to go.

The Crusaders had the ball back on their own 4-yard line on their third possession. On their first play from scrimmage fullback Ed Keturakis broke several tackles up the middle and found daylight along the sideline. Even with a blocker running with him, Keturakis was caught from behind after going 91 yards.

"He's not noted for his speed, but I thought he had a touchdown. I guess he just ran out of gas," Schott said. Kevin Schott made the score 20-0 with his 3-yard run and McFarland added the extra point.

Less than three minutes later, Althoff picked off a John Linhart pass at the Warrior's 20-yard line.

Althoff quarterback David McFarland broke around the left end on a quarterback keeper and ended up diving into the corner of the goal to make the score 27-0 with 3:43 minutes left in the second quarter. He added the extra point.

McFarland attempted only one pass and it was intercepted.

However, Keturakis more than made up for the Crusader's lack of passing potency by rushing six times for 134 yards.

Linhart, on the other hand, had his best night of the season according to his coach. He had 25 receptions in 43 attempts and one interception.

Tom Adamitis lead the Warrior receivers with 10 catches for 119 yards. He also had the long pass of the day of 30 yards, which came during South's scoring drive.

Linhart split the receiving duty between eight other Warrior receivers. The Warriors lone score came late in the fourth quarter after Althoff had replaced their starters on defense.

"They wanted the shutout," Schott explained, "but they scored on us anyway."

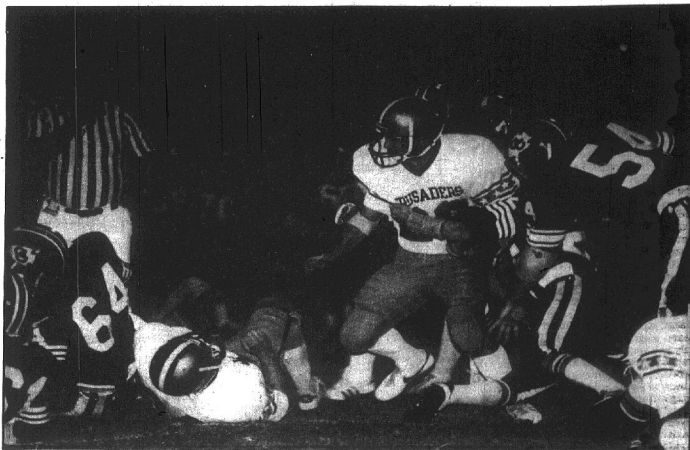

The Crusader's first team was replaced at the start of the second half by the second team.

"We finally put our offense and defense together, but our offense controlled the tempo of the game," Schott said.

Althoff rolled up 327 yards rushing and South ran for seven, but in the air Linhart threw for 287 yards compared to none for the Crusaders. In fact, the only pass they attempted was picked off by the Warriors.

"They were giving us the passing game," McKeehan admitted. "We dropped too many that were catchable."

Trittschuh boosts Steeler kickers to victories

By ROGER KRAMER

GRANITE CITY — The following item may be news to both Cahokia and Edwardsville's soccer teams: Steve Trittschuh, Granite City North's sweeper back and forward isn't fully recovered from an ankle injury suffered in North's first game of the season August 28.

As far as both Cahokia and Edwardsville is concerned, Trittschuh might as well be fully recovered. The 6-1, 185 pound senior scored the winning goals for North in Saturday's 1-0 win over Cahokia and Friday's 2-1 overtime victory over the Tigers.

Trittschuh injured an ankle in the second quarter of North's opener with Quincy, and has spent the season recovering from the injury.

Although he has been playing since the first week in September, it has taken Trittschuh a while to match his all-star performance of 1981.

"We still tape his ankle heavily before each game," North coach Bob Kehoe said. "He's not at 100 percent yet, but he's a good 95 percent of normal."

Trittschuh is almost recovered from

Granite North
Steelers

his injury, but Kehoe wraps his ankle for two reasons.

"We don't want to take a chance of him re-injuring his ankle on a silly little thing, and taping his ankle also helps him psychologically because he isn't afraid to go all out," Kehoe said.

Trittschuh went all out defensively against Cahokia. He and the other Steelers shut out Cahokia for three quarters while allowing only two shots in that span.

There was just one problem. The Steeler offense didn't go all out to score points. North took only six shots in the first 60 minutes, and something had to be done.

In order to add some offensive punch, Kehoe moved Trittschuh up from sweeper to forward. The move worked. Brian Levin kicked the ball toward the right corner of the goal where Trittschuh was sandwiched between Cahokia's goalie and several defenders. Cahokia goalkeeper Rick Pearce appeared to have the best chance at the ball, but Trittschuh leaped high to head the ball in the net.

"Steve's got such a nose for the ball," Kehoe said. "The ball looked like an innocent little shot right to the goalkeeper, but the ball spun a little bit, and suddenly he was up above everyone with his outstanding leaping ability. He's a very, very good leaper."

Despite North's strong individual efforts, Kehoe was still disappointed with the Steelers' performances in both the Cahokia game and the Edwardsville game.

"We've won two games in the last two days, and in order to do that, we had to bring up our defense to the front line. The small players up front seem more than willing to let the defense get the ball," Kehoe said.

"I don't know why we have to wait on him to get to the ball. But when we put him up there, he goes and gets the ball," Kehoe said of Trittschuh. "When you're on the front line, you get the chance to score, but you're also going to make contact because the defense isn't going to give up anything to you," Kehoe said.

In fact, Kehoe thought the Cahokia game was a lackluster game for both teams.

"Both teams were very flat out there. Neither team was showing anything. I don't know what if they were thinking about the World Series, the Junior prom, or something else. However, they were not thinking about the game and using their teammates," Kehoe said.

Kehoe was unsettled about the game because North easily defeated the Comanches 2-0 on Sept. 1. "This time, we were very fortunate to get that goal from 'Eaver' (Trittschuh)," he said.

The Comanches only took two shots in the game, and North goalie Rich Branding made saves on both shots. North took 10 shots, and Pearce had five saves.

G.C. NORTH 2, EDWARDSVILLE 0

Trittschuh, who was moved from sweeper to forward as soon as the game went into overtime, came through with the winning goal against North's Gateway East Conference rivals.

Trittschuh took Mike Macko's pass and kicked it in the goal with 1:32 left in the second overtime to clinch the game for the Steelers.

Tim Dean scored North's first goal in the second quarter off an pass from Trittschuh, but Edwardsville tied the game in the third quarter on a goal from John Edmond.

"We're getting good individual efforts from our players, but soccer is not an individual sport. You have to depend on your teammates, and you have to learn how to lose. We do that sometimes, but we don't do it all the time," Kehoe said.

The Steelers entertain Belleville East Tuesday at North with the JV game starting at 3:30 p.m. On Wednesday, North finishes its GEC schedule at Belleville Althoff. The JV game starts at 11 a.m.

North is 8-8-1 overall and 5-2 in the GEC.

Knights frustrate Trojan defense; win 32-8

By JEFF WILSON

ST. JACOB — For the first few minutes Friday evening in the football matchup between Madison and Triad, it looked as if Madison and its coach Alvin Vanderhaar were in their element. The respective goals they had set this year. Unfortunately, by the end of the game, things soured and the Knights defeated the Trojans 32-8.

On their opening possessions, both teams traded fumbles. But when Madison got the ball back, the Trojans took it to the Knights. Madison marched 74 yards in 13 plays and capped the drive with a one-yard touchdown run by Kelly Scrum. Scrum's points after run then made the score 8-0.

Something, however, was absent in that first Trojan drive — a passing attack — and as the game progressed, the Knights used that weakness to turn the game around and defeat Madison handing the Trojans their fifth loss of the season.

"They didn't show any inclination to throw," said Knight coach Ed Cange after watching the Knights raise their record to 5-1.

"But their two backs (Scrum and Rich Butler) were in the top five or six we've seen this season," Cange said. Those backs kept Madison in strong contention throughout most of the game, but Triad's southerly quarterback Steve Brown helped weaken the Trojan's surge. Brown completed eight of 21 passes for 121 yards and three touchdowns to lead the Knights to a homecoming victory.

At the same time, Triad showed the Trojans the benefits of mixing up the offensive attack. The Knights came right back with a 10-play drive of its own. That drive was capped by a 30-yard strike on a screen pass from Brown to Mike Herschbach.

Herschbach had three blockers in front of him and Phil Hoenig's block sprung him for the touchdown. Triad's two point conversion failed.

On Madison's second drive, the Trojans went nowhere and on fourth and 18 they elected to punt. But the center snap sailed over punter Pat Wilson's head. The ball went into the end zone for a safety, and the score was tied 8-8.

Triad came right back and made the score 14-8 when senior running back Pat McMullin, who rushed for 111 yards in 13 carries, capped a 46-yard drive with a 14-yard run up the middle. Brian Sampson kick made the 15-8.

On fourth and one from its own 40 late in the first half, the Trojans were stopped short on a running play. Triad used just two plays, a 32-yard pass from brown to Bill Carriger and an 8-yard pass to Mike Rogier to raise the score to 21-8. Sampson's kick made it 22-8.

With 30 seconds remaining in the half, Sampson kicked his first field goal of the season, a 41-yarder to give Triad a 25-8 halftime lead.

Triad saved its final score for the fourth quarter, marching 60 yards on 15 plays for their final touchdown.

Bowland celebrates 25th anniversary

Bowland Bowling Lanes located on Illinois Route 203 in northern Granite City was 25 years old as of last Tuesday, Oct. 12. The recreation center's celebration will culminate with contests in the spring, according to Chuck Blume, Bowland manager.

On Oct. 12, 1957, owners Jack Jachino and Harold Mefford opened Bowland. It featured 20 lanes then. Eight of those lanes came from the old Playmor Bowling Alley located in the 1800 block of Ridgson, lanes the two also owned.

Jachino and Mefford managed Bowland for many years before Jachino, the only surviving partner, sold the lanes on Aug. 2, 1974, to Bowling Corporation of America, a bowling center conglomerate from Garden City, New York. BCA, which owns 26 bowling alleys nationwide, still owns Bowland.

In 1980, Bowland added on an additional 12 lanes to its northern side, expanding it to its existing size, recalls Alice Hill, an employee at Bowland since it opened.

Bowland always has been a popular alley with the bowlers, says Hill, now night manager. Bowland's league figures supports that.

Currently, there are 50 fall leagues consisting of 850 teams playing at Bowland. Those figures translate to 3,000 bowlers weekly with actual participation at the lanes estimated at 5,000 persons, Blume said. That figure, he says, includes open or non-league bowling and spectators.

"We're really fortunate to have this type of facility and the clientele we do," said Blume, who has been manager for four years. "A lot of the credit has to go to Jack (Jachino). He really made this place." Blume said.

Although Blume has made plans for the center's birthday celebrations, he chose not to discuss them because he's still waiting approval from BCA officials.

"I'd rather not say too much about it right now," Blume said. "But I can tell you it'll be a celebration to

IGNORE YOUR BACKACHE & SUFFER THE CONSEQUENCES.

Back pain, however insignificant it seems, is frequently the beginning of serious, painful problems. Problems such as pinched nerves, slipped discs, neuralgia, neuritis, (and sometimes arthritic type pains), tuberculosis and even paralysis.

The spine is a complex system of nerves, muscles, bones, ligaments & cartilage which are interconnected to control specific areas of the body. When the bones, or VERTEBRAE are misaligned, they pinch the surrounding nerves, obstructing the flow of energy to other parts of the body. This often results in complications which can be severe & permanent.

Dr. Gudgel is experienced in treating patients with back pain. He can restore spinal vertebrae to their proper position, relieving pain and avoiding further serious complications.

When you have back pain, see Dr. James Gudgel D.C., R.P.T. for a free spinal exam.

Rep. Wolf unopposed in new 111th District

Due to the Cutback Amendment approved by voters in November 1980, the Illinois House of Representatives will this year be grimmer in size and the Quad-City area will be represented by only one House member instead of the present three.

That legislator will be elected Nov. 2, and the lone candidate won the Democratic primary in March. Rep. Sam W. Wolf, 62, defeated Leo Pelek, 51, Wolf is secretary-treasurer of the Madison County Democratic Central Committee.

No Republicans filed for the primary in the 111th House District, formerly part of the 56th Legislative District.

The new district includes Granite City, Nameoki, Venice, Chouteau, Hamel, Edwardsville, Moro, Omphgnet and Pin Oak townships.

Each of 118 districts in Illinois will choose one representative this year. Formerly, 59 districts picked three each in cumulative voting.

Rep. Jim McPike, Alton Democrat, is running in the new 112th District. The other 56th District representative, Everett Steele, Glen Carbon Republican, is retiring from the General Assembly after this year.

The 111th primary opponents for a two-year legislative term, Wolf and Pelek, both are Granite City real estate brokers. Steele also is a real estate broker.

Wolf is seeking his fourth term as a representative in Springfield for this community.

Appointed to the state legislature Oct. 3, 1975, he served until January 1977. He was elected to a two-year term in November 1978 and then won another term in 1980.

Rep. Wolf, who operates a real estate and insurance agency in Granite City, is a former Democratic national committeeman, having been chosen initially for that post in July 1970.

He became a Democratic precinct committeeman in 1965 and has been the party's countywide secretary-treasurer since 1970.

Wolf has served as a delegate to the mid-term conference of the national Democratic party and also as a national Democratic convention delegate.

In the Illinois House, he has served on such panels as the Elections, Executive, Insurance and Environmental committees, as well as the Energy and Natural Resources Committee and the Banks and Savings and Loan Associations Committee.

He has been a member of the County Problems Commission, the State Property Insurance Study Commission and the Legislative Advisory Committee to the Southwestern Illinois Metropolitan and Regional Planning Commission.

Wolf was reappointed in January 1982 to the Motor Vehicle Laws Commission of Illinois. One of the busiest commissions in the legislature, it presented many proposed changes to the Assembly for consideration.

Its hearings and test demonstrations helped formulate legislation on rescue vehicles, trucks, cycle driver training, medical transportation, display of license plates, revision of registration fees, disposition of unclaimed vehicles, driving while under the influence of alcohol or drugs, and other road and automotive topics.

Working with the commission were the Department of Transportation, State Police, Corrections Department, Secretary of State's Office, Department of Law Enforcement, Illinois Commerce Commission, Midwest Trucking Association, Illinois Office of Education and others.

Rep. Wolf was instrumental in passage of a law that tightens the regulation of driving by those under the influence of drugs or liquor. It went into effect Jan. 1, 1982.

The legislator and his wife, Mae, have two sons, Dave and Larry. He was born in Venice and attended Venice schools. He has lived in Granite City since the 1940s and is a lifelong resident of the 111th District area.

A member of the United

REP. SAM WOLF

Steelworkers while employed at Granite City Steel. Wolf was loan officer and then assistant vice-president of Mercantile Mortgage Co., working there seven years before entering the real estate and insurance fields in 1954.

He has taken business courses at Washington and Northwestern universities. He is a member of the National Association of Real Estate Boards and National Association of Independent Insurance Agents.

Past president of the Granite City Board of Realtors and Granite City Kiwanis Club, Wolf in 1977 and 1978 was a legislative assistant to the Illinois secretary of state, Alan Dixon. The latter is now a U.S. senator from Illinois.

Wolf handled extensive administrative and legislative responsibilities during World War II, serving in the armed forces for five years and advancing in rank from private to chief warrant officer.

He was a personnel officer and adjutant, in the field and at military headquarters. He served overseas in both the Asiatic-Pacific and European theaters.

Wolf has been active in the General Assembly in obtaining added homestead tax exemptions.

Laws which he sponsored authorize townships to deposit public funds in savings and loan institutions, equalize appellate court clerks' pay Downstate with the level in Chicago, increase the state's fees for supplying statistical information to commercial facilities, and end duplication in reports required of the secretary of state.

He was among those who secured replacement of the corporate personal property tax, and he sees a need for further tax reforms.

Wolf opposed the scheduled reduction in the size of the Illinois House from 177 to 118 members in the belief that it will lead to greater Chicago area control of state lawmaking.

He successfully backed elimination of the state inheritance tax.

"The condition of our roads is continually deteriorating. However, an ongoing effort to put together needed highway legislation is progressing," he reports.

"I supported legislation to simplify admission of persons to nursing homes. It was signed into law."

"Another law gives more protection to abused children. It makes changes that were recommended by the Department of Children and Family Services."

"A new law is designed to help protect senior citizens against attacks by criminals. Judges may now consider the advanced age and weak condition of the victim when deciding what punishment is appropriate for those convicted of crimes against the elderly."

"I supported the domestic violence law. It allows circuit courts to prohibit an individual from striking, molesting or harassing a petitioner or the petitioner's children."

Wolf concludes, "A law that went into effect Jan. 1 eliminates probation for residential burglars. Illinois citizens have a right to feel safe in their homes, and this law serves notice to anyone thinking about breaking into another's home that he will face prison if he does."

Silent films to be shown

Two old-time movies from the silent era will be shown at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, Tuesday, Oct. 19. They are "The Cabinet of Dr. Caligari" (G), directed by Robert Wiene in 1920, and "The Phantom of the Opera" (G), directed by Rupert Julian in 1925.

and his sideshow attraction, Cesare, a somnambulist whom he keeps in a coffin-like box by day and sends out at night to kidnap and kill. "The Phantom of the Opera" features Lon Chaney, who plays the role of a mad and hideously disfigured composer who ventures forth from his lair beneath the Opera House to guide the career of a young singer, to whom he presents himself only as a disembodied voice.

NUTRITION PROGRAM THROUGHOUT STATE

All 102 counties in Illinois are now offering the Women, Infants and Children (WIC) Nutrition Program. It is designed to help women with a high risk of giving birth to developmentally disabled children because of a variety of reasons, such as poor diet and other nutritional shortcomings.

Since February, 38 counties have joined the WIC program, which serves nearly 100,000 women, compared to 58,000 earlier this year. In the past several years, the infant death rate in Illinois has dropped 12.8 percent, from nearly 16 deaths for every 1,000 births in 1977 to just under 14 deaths per 1,000 births by the end of 1981.

Mildew must eat. Mildew is a living thing — a mold, actually — that reproduces itself by microscopic airborne spores. It needs to eat, and one of its menu items is almost any kind of soil or greasy film. So one way to fight mildew is to keep things clean.

American Legion
Jr. Girls meet

The first meeting of the Junior Girls of the American Legion Post 113 was planned as a "get acquainted" party for 11 girls and their parents.

Discussions were held on projects and activities of interest for the forthcoming month. Initially the members agreed to hold regular meetings on the first and third Tuesday of each month to begin at 8:30 p.m.

Margaret Payne, Junior Girls chairman of the American Legion Post 784 in Chokoma, was the guest speaker at a second meeting.

Since Australia is the study topic of the year, her program and displays revealed many interesting insights into life in Australia — its history, customs, plant and animal life.

Mrs. Sunshine Luly of Godfrey, then showed slides of Australia taken on her recent tour of that country. In closing Mary Jo Akers, secretary of the Library Board presented a brief talk on the many services offered by our library and the formation of a new group called "Friends of the Library" who will support the library in its many functions.

leaves for new pastorate

The Rev. A. E. Cope delivered his last sermon Sunday at City Temple Assembly of God Church, 4751 Maryville Road, after 16 years of service as a minister for the congregation.

Rev. Cope accepted the pastorate here when the church was located at 1917 State St. and was instrumental in planning and working with the building committee for the construction of the new edifice on Maryville Road which was completed in 1977.

The building on State Street originally was a theater and had been empty for several years when the congregation decided to begin meeting at that location.

Rev. Cope assumed his duties at the local church on Jan. 23, 1966. He has now accepted the position of pastor of the Assembly of God Church in Pawnee, Ill.

During his residence in the area, Rev. Cope assisted in updating the ministry at St. Elizabeth Medical Center, for the benefit of patients. His final sermons were delivered at 9:45 a.m. and 7 p.m. Sunday.

The congregation is in the process of securing a new minister, according to an announcement.

Wm. Webb candidate for county board re-election

William B. Webb of Granite City is unopposed Nov. 2 for re-election to a four-year Madison County Board term in District 19.

He won a two-way Democratic primary race in March.

The revised district territory consists of Nameoki Precincts 8, 6 and 9 and Granite City Precincts 21, 22, 23, 24, 31 and 34.

Webb, 56, of 4653 Stearns Ave., holds one of the longest records of service on the County Board, having been elected to it continuously since 1950.

He was elected to six terms on the former County Board of Supervisors, serving 22 years on that panel, which included township supervisors and assistant supervisors. He is a former assistant supervisor of Granite City Township.

Webb has experience on many of the committees, including the juvenile detention home, right-of-way, tuberculosis, negotiations, highway, executive, health institutions and rabies control committees.

As a board member, committee member and committee chairman, Webb has knowledge of numerous county programs and staffs.

He often is one of the principal figures at County Board meetings, presenting and explaining recommendations. His long experience as a contract negotiator is put to use regularly.

A past chairman of the detention home and right-of-way committees, he currently heads both the health institutions committee and the highway committee, formerly known as the road and bridge committee, as well as serving as a member of the bargaining panel.

The health institutions committee monitors the County Nursing Home, County Shelter Care Home, County Detention Home, County Tuberculosis Clinic and programs of the Madison County Mental Health (Law 708) Board.

Webb takes an interest in all four county facilities and visits them often as well as attending 12 to 14 meetings each month related to the county government.

Born in Venice, Webb is a lifelong resident of the Quad-City area and was educated in the Madison and Granite City schools.

He retired this year from Granite City Steel, where he had been employed for 45 years as a diesel locomotive operator, running a narrow-gauge engine at the basic oxygen furnace department and previously at the open

IFT backs Democrats

"We must wage an all-out battle in support of pro-education candidates in the Nov. 2 election, or face the prospects of even greater deterioration of public schools in Illinois," Illinois Federation of Teachers President Robert Healey said last week.

Healey's remarks accompanied release of IFT's final list of endorsed candidates for the state legislature and U.S. Congress in the November elections.

Healey's remarks accompanied release of IFT's final list of endorsed candidates for the state legislature and U.S. Congress in the November elections.

The process began in March with endorsement of Adlai Stevenson to oppose Gov. Jim Thompson in the race for governor.

In June, the organization endorsed other statewide candidates and initiated a drive to strengthen and expand Cope (Committee On Political Education), organized labor's political arm, in preparation for the fall election campaigns.

According to Healey, the campaign to defeat Thompson will be the main focus of IFT's "struggle to save Illinois schools."

Healey said, "Without a doubt, we have the most anti-education governor this state has seen in decades."

"The effectiveness of our schools, the integrity of our pension fund, job security for teachers and other education workers—all are at stake."

"We must not only elect Stevenson, but also work equally as hard to elect state senators, state representatives and members of Congress who will address the needs of public schools with sympathy and a commitment for improvement."

REPORTS BURGLARY - Burglars entered the home of Marilyn Badders, 202 McCasland Ave., Madison, late last week and took a 22-caliber automatic revolver, a hunting knife, $6 worth of pennies and $15 worth of half-dollars.

BURGLARIZE VAN - A burglar entered a Glik's Department Stores van, parked in the 3800 block of Village Lane, and stole various hand tools, including a circular saw, drill and jig saw, valued between $400 and $450. It was reported by Al Ratkewicz, 3801 Village Lane.

ALLEGED BATTERY - Richard E. Presswood, 20, of 2944 E. 28th St., was arrested at home last week on a warrant alleging battery. He was released upon posting a $352 cash bond.

ALLEN BREEDON, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Breedon, 1307 Washington Ave., Madison, has enlisted in the U.S. Air Force's Delayed Enlistment Program, according to Technical Sgt. Tom Slater, Air Force recruiter here. Breedon, who is in the 1983 graduating class of Granite City High School, will enter the service Aug. 1, 1983. He plans to enter the security specialist field.

Vocational chairmen for year chosen

The first 1982-83 meeting of the Granite City School District Vocational Advisory Council met at the Board of Education office this month.

Robert Skinner will chair the Industrial Division, Millie Chandler the Business Division and Phyllis Weiss the Home Economics Division. It was decided in an annual election.

The purpose of the council is to utilize the expertise of business and industrial specialists to help evaluate and make recommendations for the vocational programs offered by the school district.

Thomas C. Holloway is the director of vocational education on the staff of Superintendent R. J. Davis.

The council will evaluate the electrical, general merchandising, fashion merchandising and home furnishing merchandising programs during the 1982-83 school year.

The next meeting will be held in early December.

Madison County clerk unopposed

Evelyn Bowles, Madison County Clerk, is unopposed for re-election to the office she has held since 1974, when she succeeded Eulalia Hutz.

Miss Bowles had served as chief deputy in the county clerk's office for 23 years prior to the election.

She is the Democratic nominee for county clerk in the Nov. 2 general election.

"Among the many changes which have occurred in the past eight years, the one which has had the greatest impact is the Illinois Consolidation of Elections Act."

"There is no longer a time without election preparations being carried out in the office," she commented.

"Greater utilization of the computer has also changed the administrative processes in several of our departments, primarily tax extensions and voters' registration."

"Former manual operations are now done by electronic data processing."

Miss Bowles has entered into what she considers and "ambitious microfilming program," and has installed an "Oracle system which allows for the issuance of certified copies of birth and death certificates within minutes."

"Marriage records will also be microfilmed and will be reproduced on the Oracle."

Miss Bowles' ability has been recognized by her fellow clerks, who elected her president of the State Association of County Clerks and Records.

She is also serving on the State Board of Elections Advisory Committee, which consults with the State Board on election procedures and election legislation.

She is active in charitable organizations, with special emphasis on the Cancer Society and the Hospice program.

Bauder is seeking to continue board duties

Roderick L. Bauder, 708 Third St., Venice, has held the Madison County Board seat from District 29 since 1977. He is unopposed in the Nov. 2 election for a two-year term.

Bauder was appointed to the board in 1977 and was elected to an unexpired term in 1978.

He was re-elected to the board in 1980, and all County Board members' posts are on the ballot again this year due to redistricting.

In the March 1982 Democratic primary, he defeated Donald Garrett of Madison and David Parney of Nameoki Township.

Bauder cites the experience he has received while serving as a County Board member and feels that the years qualify him to oversee and protect the tax dollars of each and every resident. "He wants 'to be sure that tax dollars are used with the highest degree of efficiency and fairness possible.'"

Besides keeping a tight rein on the county budget, Bauder opposes sewer rate increases and hopes to attack the unemployment problem in Madison County.

"I voted against the rate increases for sewers in Chouteau, Nameoki and Venice townships and will continue to oppose any increases," he related.

"The jobless rate is a problem of great magnitude facing us today. I will dedicate myself to reducing the rate of unemployment by making the county more attractive to the business community."

Bauder was instrumental in obtaining funds through the Madison County Community Development program. This money was used to remodel homes in the district.

"I also was responsible for obtaining funds to support and to keep operational the Organization for the Advancement of the Handicapped (OATH)," Bauder said.

He serves on three board committees, as chairman of the Environmental Control Committee, member of the Public Welfare Committee and member of the Special Sewer Committee.

Bauder, 58, has worked at Granite City Steel for 32 years and is a hot blastman in the blast furnace area.

A U.S. Navy World War II veteran, he is a member of the Venice-Madison American Legion Post 307. A lifelong resident of Venice, Bauder graduated from Venice High School in 1942. He and his wife, Valeta, have one son, Roderick J. Bauder.

Early dismissal for K-5 Madison students

The Madison Board of Education has announced an early 1:45 p.m. dismissal Thursday for students, kindergarten through fifth grade, due to a scheduled nutrition workshop.

The early school closings will allow all elementary teachers to attend the workshop at 2 p.m. Thursday.

Dolores Folkerts, curriculum director, stated that all parents who have children attending Blair, Harris or Louis Baer schools should make arrangements for the early dismissal of their children.

Melissa Larsen, home economist for the St. Louis Dairy Council, will present the workshop in the all-purpose room at Harris School. Miss Larsen, a native of Granite City, will give each classroom teacher a packet of nutritional curriculum materials appropriate for their teaching level.

The curriculum was described by Mrs. Folkerts as a comprehensive program of nutrition education designed to provide nutritional experiences intended to encourage students to make lifelong, healthful food choices.

The materials and the services of the dairy council nutrition consultant are provided to the district by the dairy industry. The council is a non-profit organization which has been devoted to nutrition research and education since 1915.

Cong. Price has 2 ballot opponents

SANDRA CLIMACO

Melvin Price is on the Nov. 2 ballot for congressman from this district, just as he has been since November 1981.

If elected, he will have been named to his 20th consecutive two-year term in the U.S. Congress.

The veteran Democratic legislator has reached the heights in seniority and also is influential as chairman of the House Armed Services Committee.

Past chairman of the Joint Senate-House Committee on Atomic Energy, he has based his long record of public service on responsiveness to the needs of his district and expertise in the complex realms of nuclear energy and national defense.

He still travels often to distant points in the world as the Armed Services Committee's permanent observer to the United Nations.

He is a licensed practical nurse. Her husband contested the adequacy of the nomination period of Price, questioning whether the congressman still resides in the district, but the courts kept Price on the ballot.

Mrs. Climaco considers herself a non-politician but believes the issues facing the district and the nation justify campaigning for public office.

Mrs. Climaco thinks there should be more women in Congress. She opposed the Equal Rights Amendment as it was worded, but is for equality.

She comments that if the amendment had merit, voters and legislators would have recognized this and enacted it; instead, the ERA failed to achieve ratification for inclusion in the U.S. Constitution.

She tells campaign audiences that, if elected, she will take an extremely active role and will return to Illinois whenever recesses of more than two weeks occur. She has pledged to be record on high percentage of the votes taken in the U.S. House.

She would strive to protect family units, resolve drug abuse problems, foster low interest rates, and improve education, especially science classes.

The candidate proposes to upgrade and equalize the caliber of schools so there "would be no need for a segregation busing of pupils."

She would submit federal legislation for expansion of job opportunities and vocational training.

Mrs. Climaco as a member of Congress would seek "a national climate receptive to increased industrial productivity" and would attempt to aid industry in "achieving greater success in meeting worldwide competition."

She proposes to help build and maintain a strong national defense, including bolstering the size of the armed services.

public officials, planners and port operators in their efforts to have some portions of the military depot's grounds and buildings declared surplus.

It is hoped to free various sites at the base for industrial development.

Mrs. Sandra Climaco is becoming a familiar name to voters of the 21st Congressional District of Illinois. She was Democratic candidate in the March 1982 primary and now is running Nov. 2 on a one-candidate Bipartisan Good Government ticket.

She and Republican Robert H. Gaffner seek the congressional post of 19-term Cong. Melvin Price, Democrat.

Mrs. Climaco and her husband, Dr. Cesar Climaco, have been active in the life movement. They have six children and reside in Belleville.

She is a licensed practical nurse. Her husband contested the adequacy of the nomination period of Price, questioning whether the congressman still resides in the district, but the courts kept Price on the ballot.

THE POLICE RAIDING SUE

Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville is being raided by The Police nightly through Friday.

It won't be men dressed in blue coming to the campus but a videotape showing of one of the most popular "New Wave" bands around.

The free shows are scheduled in the Video Lounge, on the second floor of the University Center. They are today, Wednesday and Friday at 12:30 and 1:30 p.m.; Tuesday and Thursday at 10:30 and 11:30 a.m.; and tonight and Tuesday 6:30 p.m.

The video series is sponsored by the Student Program Board.

Robert H. Gaffner of Greenville is the Republican nominee for Congress from the new 21st District.

Gaffner, 50, is a 12-year veteran of the Greenville City Council.

He has served since 1975 as an elected trustee of Kaskaskia Community College, Centralia. He was re-elected to another four-year term on the board in November 1981.

Gaffner also is an appointed member of the statewide Illinois Community College Trustee Association collective bargaining study commission, and chaired the statewide ICTA subcommittee on local policies for community colleges.

He is a chairman of the statewide Community Relations Advisory Committee to the Illinois Community College Board and is a member of the Legislative Committee of the Regional Commerce and Growth Association.

Gaffner's first bid for national office came in 1974 when he sought the Republican nomination for the congressional seat in the 24th District. Bond County has since been redistricted to the 21st.

The 21st District now includes the following counties: Bond, portions of Clinton (with the exception of Carlyle), Madison, portions of Montgomery (including Hillsboro and South Litchfield) and all of St. Clair except Centerville Township.

In 1972, he served as deputy chairman of the national educators committee for the successful reelection of the U.S. president.

Gaffner has been employed since 1969 as director of community relations for the St. Louis Community College system, a position which requires lobbying at the Missouri state capital as well as in Washington, D.C.

He has undergraduate degrees from Greenville College and has done master of business administration study at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville. Gaffner was one of the founding trustees of the

ROBERT GAFFNER

Council for the Advancement and Support of Education. He served three years as vice-chairman of the Missouri Association of Community and Junior Colleges legislative committee.

He was president of the National School Public Relations Association's St. Louis chapter, and is a member of the Public Relations Society of America.

He is a charter member of the Interplanetary Space Society.

In the past, he was an active member of the Jaycees, becoming president of the Greenville chapter and later state vice-president of the National Council for Community Relations.

An elder in the First Presbyterian Church of Greenville, Gaffner also is active in the Christian Business Men's Committee of St. Louis and has served as president of the United Presbyterian Men's Council.

He and his wife, Anne, reside at 2 Spring Hill Drive, Greenville. They have two children: Elizabeth, 21, and Brian, 18.

In the campaign, he has pictured the incumbent congressman as being inseparably linked to high governmental spending and, burdensome taxes.

State board will honor Simpson

Illinois State Board of Education "Those Who Excel" awards will be presented to 104 persons for their contributions to the state's kindergarten through twelfth grade education system Oct. 29 in Springfield.

Ronald Dean Simpson, a teacher at Prather Junior High in Granite City, has received honorary mention in the award list.

The state board will honor five categories: teacher, school administrator, school board member, student (grades seven through 12) and parent or other member of the community.

State Superintendent of Education Donald Gill will present plaques for outstanding achievement, certificates of excellence, and letters of honorary mention.

"The award program provides us with an opportunity to honor the many individuals who devote their talents to offering educational excellence in Illinois' schools," Dr. Gill said.

For the program, the state is divided into six regions. A selection committee, with representatives of 14 educational organizations, met during the summer to select finalists and runners-up for each of the six areas.

The selection committee used the following criteria for reviewing nominees:

— Could the nominee be considered a positive change agent in the school and community?

— Has the nominee benefited affected any one or more of the following: curriculum, staff, morale, community support, student interest, or the learning environment?

— Has the nominee provided creative leadership in inspiring or motivating others to achieve or contribute to the school environment?

— Have others recognized the nominee as a force for constructive change?

— Has the nominee personally provided a special service or achieved above and beyond what is expected in the usual school program?

Seek teams for College Bowl

Team registrations now are being taken for the Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville College Bowl tournament.

Applications will be accepted until Nov. 1 for the academic question-and-answer tournament. The double elimination tournament is Nov. 15 to 18 from 5 to 9:45 each night.

Four members, plus one alternate, are needed for each team participating in the campus tournament. According to Bob Becker, Student Program Board (SPB) advisor, teams should have members from various academic areas, as the questions cover history, science, religion, literature, current events, trivia and sports.

The winning team, plus the three members who have the highest scores from the other teams, will comprise the SIUE All-Star Team. All-Star team members will receive trophies and tickets to various campus and St. Louis events.

A special competition between these eight players will determine the five people who will represent SIUE at the regional tournament Feb. 4 and 5 at Western Illinois University in Macomb. All expenses will be paid.

A $10 registration fee is required per team. Entry blanks are available at the Student Program Board, located on the first floor of the University Center.

Becker also said volunteers are needed to work at the tournament as judges, moderators and score and time keepers.

The fifth annual campus tournament is sponsored by the Office of the Vice President and Provost, University Center and SPB. For more information, interested persons may contact the SPB at 1-402-2817.

Fire official details rescue

Granite City Assistant Fire Chief George Smolich said city rescue workers had to be lowered down a well Monday morning to bring to the surface a fallen Granite City Steel worker. The worker was not seriously injured.

Details of the rescue were released after the Press-Record's deadline that day. The fire department's rescue truck and an ambulance were called by the plant, a division of National Steel, at 9:30 a.m., said Smolich, after William G. Mertz, 38, 1553 St. Clair Ave., fell into a ranney well.

Child center to serve free meals

The Tri-City Park Child Development Center today announced they are participating in the Child Care Food Program and that meals are available to all enrolled children at no separate charge.

They have adopted the United States Department of Agriculture Family Income Guidelines for free and reduced price meals for determining eligibility. All children are treated the same regardless of ability to pay.

In the operation of child nutrition programs, no child will be discriminated against because of race, color, handicap, or national origin, according to Katherine Belmer, director.

According to Smolich, the electrician was attempting to go up a ladder, directly over an access hole to the 75 to 80-foot deep well, when a steel grating gave way. As the worker fell, he brushed against metal bars, which left lacerations on his leg and bruises on an arm and wrist.

Mertz fell about 33 feet before hitting the water and managed to grab a piece of metal attached to the inside of the well, said Smolich. He yelled to a co-worker for help and was able to use a still-functioning flashlight that survived the fall.

The assistant fire chief said a National Steel crane lowered rescue workers and an emergency litter to the worker, who was then pulled from the well. Mertz was treated at the steel company's medical clinic.

SUITCASES GONE

Two blue suitcases containing new clothes, makeup, jewelry and shoes were stolen from the auto of Pam Moran, 238 Sunny Shores, while the vehicle was parked in the 2500 block of the Parkway Apartments, she reported last week.

The political awareness and attitude survey was conducted among legislative candidates following the March 1982 primary. Survey results were released this week.

Peter Koukos, president of the Illinois Association of Park Districts, a commissioner in the Park District of Highland Park and a member of the board of trustees of the National Recreation and Park Association, said, "We conducted the survey to increase awareness of the city's financial situation and changes in leisure activities among legislators."

Also sought were the preferred financing alternatives for local governmental jurisdictions, given that the demand for services is on the rise but available funds are either stable or declining.

The survey results show strong support for the use of special option districts to provide parks and recreation.

Illinois law permits local areas to organize special purpose districts to provide public services desired by local residents in their own areas. More than 1,500 units of special option government currently exist in Illinois, providing such services as education, libraries, sanitation and parks.

Less than three percent of the Illinois legislative candidates surveyed favored the abolition of special districts.

The majority was found to perceive parks and recreation services as highly effective overall. Only 3.7 percent disagreed, and about half of those cited a lack of park and recreation facilities as the reason.

Overall, candidates revealed a strong preference for parks and recreation services as sources of relaxation and recreation for adults and children.

Less importance, however, was attached to parks and recreation services for their ability to attract new businesses and residents to a specific area; 37.2 percent ranked recreation as very important in affecting location decisions, compared to 89.9 percent for public schools.

On financing, the candidates found an increase in property taxes an unacceptable solution to revenue problems. On the other hand, 38 percent were willing to see a reduction in public services as a remedy.

Slightly more than 10 percent would fund state aid for capital acquisition and operation very acceptable. But a majority favors the various forms of taxes commonly used to provide state aid—natural resource depletion, cigarettes, alcohol and lottery—as revenue sources.

IAPD president Koukos believes that while the survey reveals no negative perceptions of parks, his association has its work cut out.

"As a result of the survey, we need to get the product we deliver at a higher priority than the candidates assigned to us. It's important that we make legislators aware of the importance of recreation to the people."

IAPD president-elect

Parks seen aiding area development

A new survey of candidates for the Illinois House and Senate reveals that legislative hopefuls perceive recreation services as effectively provided in the state, Granite City park officials said this week.

In addition, more than one-third of the incumbents and newcomers surveyed rank parks and recreation as having significant impact on an area's economic development.

The survey of candidates, jointly commissioned by the Illinois Association of Park Districts (IAPD) and the Illinois Park and Recreation Association, shows that police and fire services and elementary and secondary education are considered more important in attracting new business and residents to a legislative district than are such services as airports, street and highway facilities and parks and recreation.

The political awareness and attitude survey was conducted among legislative candidates following the March 1982 primary. Survey results were released this week.

Peter Koukos, president of the Illinois Association of Park Districts, a commissioner in the Park District of Highland Park and a member of the board of trustees of the National Recreation and Park Association, said, "We conducted the survey to increase awareness of the city's financial situation and changes in leisure activities among legislators."

Also sought were the preferred financing alternatives for local governmental jurisdictions, given that the demand for services is on the rise but available funds are either stable or declining.

The survey results show strong support for the use of special option districts to provide parks and recreation.

Illinois law permits local areas to organize special purpose districts to provide public services desired by local residents in their own areas. More than 1,500 units of special option government currently exist in Illinois, providing such services as education, libraries, sanitation and parks.

Less than three percent of the Illinois legislative candidates surveyed favored the abolition of special districts.

The majority was found to perceive parks and recreation services as highly effective overall. Only 3.7 percent disagreed, and about half of those cited a lack of park and recreation facilities as the reason.

Overall, candidates revealed a strong preference for parks and recreation services as sources of relaxation and recreation for adults and children.

Less importance, however, was attached to parks and recreation services for their ability to attract new businesses and residents to a specific area; 37.2 percent ranked recreation as very important in affecting location decisions, compared to 89.9 percent for public schools.

On financing, the candidates found an increase in property taxes an unacceptable solution to revenue problems. On the other hand, 38 percent were willing to see a reduction in public services as a remedy.

Slightly more than 10 percent would fund state aid for capital acquisition and operation very acceptable. But a majority favors the various forms of taxes commonly used to provide state aid—natural resource depletion, cigarettes, alcohol and lottery—as revenue sources.

IAPD president Koukos believes that while the survey reveals no negative perceptions of parks, his association has its work cut out.

"As a result of the survey, we need to get the product we deliver at a higher priority than the candidates assigned to us. It's important that we make legislators aware of the importance of recreation to the people."

GC audit shows overspending for treatment, ambulances

By GEORGEANN MCGEE of the Press-Record

Granite City has issued its most comprehensive and extensive annual financial report to date, according to City Comptroller Joseph Miklovic's opening statement to the 81-page audit report.

Besides the expected deficit statistics—with last year's city spending exceeding income by $234,000—the city comptroller has added an optimistic twist, predicting a unified aldermanic council can reverse the trend "of a city already in the throes of an economic downturn."

The annual report takes a detailed look back at the city's economic state as it appeared April 30, the conclusion of its "fiscal year." Historical data for the past five years, including tax charts, population tables and government statistics are included as reference sources.

"There is literally no comparison to what (reports) the city has prepared in previous years," states Miklovic.

The revamped annual report, along with a city's new and continuing internal monitoring system, reflect the comptroller's attempt to provide the council with a better understanding of the city's financial situation.

At that time, two-thirds of the 1981-82 embattled fiscal year of debt and disbursements already had passed.

The comptroller prefers not to comment on the content of the annual report until tomorrow's council session, scheduled for 8 p.m. in the Granite City Township Building.

According to Miklovic's introductory letter, however, changes in city reporting and monitoring standards provide a "much-needed base" to aid city administrators facing difficult financial times. The accompanying audit report, prepared by Fox & Company, St. Louis, lists some of those limiting factors, previously outlined to the council, among them an ambulance service subsidized by $231,000 in general funds and a wastewater treatment plant which exceeded its revenues by $224,000.

"Of concern to the city, as well as all sectors of the community, is the continued depressed status of the economy," Miklovic states in the report. Currently, the recession has meant only minor cuts in taxes coming from corporations, partnerships and utilities. If the depressed state persists, however, the city may have to re-evaluate its dependence on those sources.

Miklovic states that revenues for general government increased 17 percent last fiscal year. Property tax contributions to the city's revenue dropped from 40 to 34.2 percent.

The total taxable base for the area, $158.1 million, was more than 20.5 percent higher than the preceding year. The comptroller credits increase to the tax multiplier and real estate reassessments.

"City property valuations '40 a level comparable to surrounding municipalities," the report cites firm opposition to the city's additional 3/4-percent sales tax started in January, and special efforts to enforce the ordinance. The tax did not provide the revenue that it was projected to generate during the last fiscal year.

The comptroller also notes a decrease in intergovernmental revenue due to a decrease in air pollution control grant funding, the federal government's reaction to the city's cutback of that department.

The city found some increased revenues due to the comptroller's efforts to close the city's cashbook causing damage to city property, according to Miklovic. Individuals in those cases had not been billed since 1977.

Overall, the 1981-82 expenditure for general government of $7.30 million was an increase of 11.2 percent from the preceding fiscal year.

It's hard work being son No. 3

By ALAN L. GANSBERG

HOLLYWOOD — Filming a TV series can be hard work, and not only that, it can mean weeks away from home and loved ones. That's what PETER HORTON has discovered, as he toils as Crane McFadden, son No. 3, on the new CBS series, "Seven Brides for Seven Brothers."

The series has been shooting its episodes in Murphys, Calif., in Calaveras County, which Mark Twain made famous in short stories. Peter has rented a house, but he's still hours away from wife MICHELLE PFEIFFER (star of "Grease 2") and the L.A. scene.

"We charter private planes to get to Los Angeles," Peter said. "Being in Murphys means you have to adjust to a very quiet way of life. We go hiking, river rafting, water skiing. But basically we're working six days each week."

"Seven Brides" is a loose update of the film from the 1950s — and although there will be original music by JIMMY WEBB and dance numbers from ONNA WHITE, there is no RUSS TAMBLYN.

In this story the eldest brother has married and brings his bride back to a house filled with six other brothers. This is 1982 and the young ranchers are fighting bankruptcy and villains who want to steal their stake.

The McFadden family is supposed to have roots in this valley, unlike Peter's own situation. His father was an executive for a shipping firm and Peter calls Seattle home, although he spent his early years living in such places as Hong Kong, Japan and Illinois. He's worked quite a bit already, in such movies as "The Serial," "Fade to Black" and "Split Image" and the TV movie "Miracle on Ice."

Life with Michelle is in a cottage in the hills of Santa Monica, a home once owned by singer RICKIE LEE JONES. Peter is not concerned about being married to an actress, he remarked. "You know what the other is going through in the business. Of course, there is also the disadvantage of competition with each other which is not healthy."

However, Peter and Michelle have only worked together once and that was in a scene class. Peter still tries to do a stage play each year and has found that he is not a homebody. If not with his wife, he can be found on a Yankee Clipper, which he purchased with his father and has renovated. He also likes to travel and work on his music. On the series Peter is the brother who plays the guitar and has a college degree.

SIDNEY POITIER may have seen his latest directorial effort, "Hanky Panky," starring GENE WILDER and GILDA RADNER, flop at the box office and with the critics, but he's back at the boards. Poitier is writing a script of his own, as yet untitled, that he'll also produce, direct and star in.

A young actress named JENNIFER JASON LEIGH is a hot property after her success in "Fast Times at Ridgemont High," but she's finding it a bittersweet season. Jennifer is the daughter of the late VIC MORGAN, who was killed in an unfortunate helicopter accident on the set of "Twilight Zone."

STEPHEN MACHT, who'll be making a few more appearances as Joe Cooper on "Knot's Landing" before wrapping it up, is going to be a father for the fourth time. Wife SUZANNE is expecting in February, just as eldest daughter JULIE will be deciding which college to attend in the fall of 1983.

Hitting Broadway will be DIAHANN CARROLL, who is set to substitute in the hit play, "Agnes of God."

LANA TURNER will be making three appearances on CBS's "Falcon Crest" this season. She made one last year.

ABC has ordered six episodes of "The Renegades" as a backup series. When the pilot aired this summer, the show received solid ratings. "The Renegades" concerns the exploits of former street misfits turned cops.

Gleeb

Paul Lowney / Steve McKinstry

I'm putting luminous paint and miniature flashlights on this gas balloon. What for? When I fly it tonight, people will think it's a UFO. Why spoil the deception by writing "UFO" all over it? That's for the skeptics who have to see something in writing before they believe it.

Ted Knight can't shake Ted Baxter

By GUS STEVENS

HOLLYWOOD — It's been five years since Ted Baxter made a fool of himself weekly on "The Mary Tyler Moore Show." As Ted Knight says, "Baxter was an international dummy who gave the whole world a superiority complex."

Even though Knight's new television hit, "Too Close for Comfort," is in its third season, he still is Ted Baxter wherever he goes.

"I go around the country a lot," Knight said, "and I like to visit small radio stations, the kind where I got my start as a disc jockey. Often a guy will sidle up to me and say, 'There's a person at our station here who's just like Ted Baxter.' The funny thing is, it's often the guy himself."

Knight laughs at his own story, obviously enjoying the telling. He's grinning, relaxed, looking friendly and confident in his ice cream suit and his silver hair.

"My only worry about Ted Baxter was how my children would handle it," Knight said. "But they turned out all right and when I saw the paycheck I decided to take a chance."

The Knight children did turn out well. The family has endured in a place and time when long-term, one spouse, non-drug and non-booze unions are as rare as the condor. The Knights, wed 35 years, are stalwarts of Pacific Palisades, Calif., where Ted is in his second term as honorary mayor. Ted Junior is a CPA at 27; daughter Elyse, 21, is a USC drama major, and son Eric, 18, is in junior college.

"Too Close for Comfort" is in what Knight calls "a tough new time" this fall, Thursdays at 8 p.m. on ABC. "I think time slot is more important to success than what an audience perceives as good or bad," Knight said.

"The story is going to be better this season," Knight said. "We have three new writers and Audrey Meadows is new in a recurring role." A one-hour episode will open the fall schedule.

Knight, playing Henry Rush, a San Francisco cartoonist with a wife (Nancy Dussault) and two daughters (Deborah Van Valkenburgh and Lydia Cornell), next season will become a father for the third time, an event that has "Too Close" faithful panting with anticipation.

"Pregnant women accost me on the street and wonder when that child is going to be born," Knight said. "If I had my way, she'd be pregnant for three years."

Knight says his children are more content with Henry Rush than they were with Ted Baxter (who still lives in syndication).

"I like the idea of a change," Knight said. "I can do different comedy. I have some input with the writers, but my work really starts when rehearsal starts. It's my derriere that's on the line and I work to protect it. I especially like working with Cliff Norton and Audrey Meadows. But a whole lot of things have to work together for the show to be successful — writing and other things. I help decide who will play other major roles on the show."

Knight is an expert on playing roles. He's played hundreds in his day, many of them at the same time. He's a voice expert who has done hundreds of radio and television commercials and uncounted voices on cartoon shows.

"I used to do 20 or 30 voices for a show and do five or six shows in an afternoon," Knight said, chatting about his cartoon days. He still can do a good Jim Backus or a Frank Morgan. He even looks like Backus and Morgan, as well as like Fredric March.

Amid all the clowning, Knight insists on a clean "Too Close for Comfort."

"I told ABC I didn't want to be an opening act for T and A. So we never went that way. We have attractive girls, but we do not allow them to flash or jiggle. But, hey, we're in business to entertain. That's where the buck is. We're not here to bore."

She passes up M.D. for acting

By NANCY ANDERSON

HOLLYWOOD — Melissa Gilbert isn't going to be a doctor after all.

A few years ago, playing Laura Ingalls in "Little House on the Prairie," Melissa predicted that, after high school, once the series had run its course, she'd go to college and to medical school.

Now, though, playing Laura Ingalls Wilder in "Little House: A New Beginning," she says she'll stick with acting, though she will attend the University of Southern California this fall through correspondence courses.

Hopefully she'll go to classes on campus later.

As Laura Wilder, wife of the character Almanzo Wilder (Dean Butler), Melissa will be put to the test this season, since she'll be the principal player in a series which was highly popular when Mike Landon was its star.

This year Mike is producing "Little House" but is acting elsewhere. Currently he's winding up a starring role in "Comeback," a three-hour movie for NBC-TV also starring Priscilla Presley.

Though "Comeback" was made partly in Bangkok, Landon called in to "Little House" regularly, Melissa says, to find out how things were going and to offer advice.

She thinks he got nothing but good news since, in her opinion, "Little House: A New Beginning" is a trouble-free, top drawer show.

Mike's daughter, Leslie Landon, is a regular in the Meanwhile Melissa will be a girl spending even more time on the set and less enjoying private life.

"I'm working about four hours more a day," she estimates. "That's about 12 hours a day."

series this year, and, though Melissa has known her for years, she's been pleasantly surprised by Leslie's talent and professionalism.

"I didn't know what to expect," says Gilbert, "but she's working out well."

When Melissa was cast as Laura Ingalls, she had no idea that she'd grow up in "The Little House on the Prairie."

"We didn't even know it would be a series," she remembers.

However, when she's spent so much time as a 19th century prairie girl that she's afraid people find it hard to accept her offscreen as a thoroughly modern miss capable of playing diverse roles.

"I think it will take only one good, strong project to show I can be someone other than Laura," she says, bypassing the fact that she's already worked in other projects for which she received nice, personal criticism.

She has her own production company and a property, "in the works possibly for next year."

Melissa's social life is complicated by the fact that "boys expect me to act like a little starlet, so I usually have to make the first call."

Laura, Gilbert says, "will continue to be the same, spunky character she's always been."
